General funding & resources

Theatre Chaplaincy UK offers pastoral and practical support to those working in the theatre, whether onstage, offstage, backstage or front of house. Have a look at our website: theatrechaplaincyuk.com/index.html to see if we can help.

Unlimited supports creative projects by disabled artists and companies in artforms including performance, literature, painting, sculpture, public artworks, photography, digital artworks, installations, films and more. Professional disabled artists and companies that support disabled-led work across all artforms and who are based in England and Wales are encouraged to apply. Work can relate to any subject or theme.

Main Commission Awards can help to create and share a new piece of work, and to tour or showcase it in some way.

Research and Development Awards can help to explore the initial stages of a new project. This funding is for R&D only, but we expect the results of R&Ds to be shared or showcased in some form as part of each project.

Emerging Artist Awards are for disabled artists, who have yet to receive a major exhibition or showcasing opportunity. This funding is to make a small piece of work, and to share it with an audience or with participants in some way.

The portal opens 1 October 2020. See our website: weareunlimited.org.uk/apply-to-unlimited/ for full information.
Deadline 27 October 2020
